Want to Know How to Have a Great Relationship?

There are three essential rules for building successful relationships. You need to know what they are. Once you get it, you'll be amazed at how effective these steps can be.

We aren't going to give it all away today, but we'll give you a clue. The first and most important step: Light up the room with a friendly smile for everyone. This is the start of the Trelstar® Total Approach. It's all about relationships, and we are going to tell you exactly what you need to know.

When you make a Total Call, tell everyone about the benefits of Trelstar. Tell them why maintaining low levels of testosterone is important.

In nearly all cases, serum testosterone concentration in patients treated with Trelstar remains below 20 ng/dL during months 2-9 of therapy. Nurses, office managers, and physicians need to know why Trelstar is different. Trelstar is the LHRH agonist with only a single amino acid substitution. Our triptorelin molecule is most similar to natural LHRH.
